Army's Bronze Star Goes to Hero's Folks

Posthumous Award of the Bronze Star with "V" for special valor to Corporal Terry L. Walls U.S. Army will be made Sunday evening, March 12th, in the sanctuary of Skyline Wesleyan Methodist Church, Lemon Grove.

The presentation will be made to Corporal Walls' parents, Merle and Charlene Walls, 9709 St. George, Spring Valley, by Lt. Colonel Troy Joplin, U.S. Army, senior Army instructor, San Diego City Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Walls and Terry's sisters, Dolores and Vicki, are presenting an American flag for the sanctuary of Skyline Church in memory of Terry's faith and devotion.

On November 5, 1966, Corporal Walls was a forward observer in Company "A", 2ND Battalion, 27th Infantry in War Zone "C" Viet Nam. While engaged in action with fortified enemy bunkers he voluntarily moved into the killing zone to evacuate wounded comrades. Despite intense fire he continued in this action until killed by enemy machine guns.

Corporal Walls had attended Mt. Miguel High School in Lemon Grove before entering the Army July 31, 1965. He attended paratroop school in Ft. Benning, Georgia and won his wings as a paratrooper before going to Viet Nam.

In addition to the Bronze Star Corporal Walls held the Purple Heart, Expert Infantryman Badge and the Campaign Ribbon for Viet Nam.

In the same service one hundred thirty-two youth will be honored for their attainments since last July. Over five hundred awards in the areas of religious instruction, social activities, education and crafts will be given by the Honor Council of the Christian Youth Crusaders. The C.Y.C. meets weekly on Wednesday night and is comprised of one hundred eighty-four pre-teens supervised by forty-five adults. Mrs. Edward Reed is the director.

The public is welcome.

Helix Irrigation District Wins Best Public Relations Program for 'Water Education'

The Helix Irrigation District has received an award from the San Diego Public Relations Club for the best public relations program of 1966. The honor went to the HID's Public Education Department which has conducted classroom programs of water education to over 17,000 students since the beginning of the program in May 1965. Education Representative for HID, Carl Campbell, of 518 Taft, El Cajon, accepted the award on behalf of the District.

The HID program is presented primarily in 4th grade classes, 7th grade science classes and 12 grade civics classes in schools within the HID boundaries. In the Helix Irrigation District there are three elementary school districts and one high school district representing 55 schools and about 250 classes which are eligible for programs. In addition to classroom programs HID also offers tours of the R. M. Levy Water Treatment Plant.

The idea for these "water education programs" came from Harry Griffen, of 8305 Alton Dr., Lemon Grove, chairman of the Helix Board of Directors, as an excellent way to inform the public about the water supply.

Three Here Win 'Laurels'

Mrs. Dwight Putnam, 3055 Crane St., George Clark, 1529 Larwood Rd., Lemon Grove, and Mrs. Don Irwin, 4125 Rogers Rd., Spring Valley, were recipients of "laurels" Tuesday night at the Fifth Annual Laurels Award ceremonies.

In all, seven people who have made outstanding contributions to education in the Grossmont Union High School District were honored at a banquet at the Bronze Room in La Mesa. Twenty-six had been nominated.

Mrs. Donald Beebe and John Winterhouse were co-chairmen of the 1967 edition. More than 200 attended the banquet.

Charles J. Newsome, Jr., manager of Montgomery Ward, Grossmont Center, who is serving as chairman of the committee for the March membership enrollment of the Helix Branch, American Red Cross, headed his delegation at the recent luncheon which marked the beginning of this year's traditional Red Cross membership appeal.

Ramone Eaton, vice president of the American National Red Cross, addressed the luncheon group of 400, speaking on "Red Cross and the Military Today."

Eaton explained the many responsibilities Red Cross has to servicemen overseas and the families left behind. Two hundred eighty-five Red Cross staff field and hospital directors and young women recreation workers with Clubmobiles cooperate in this greatly increased program, in So. Vietnam.

Newsome said that this is the most important Red Cross membership enrollment the Helix Branch has ever participated in. "Never before has there been so great an opportunity for the countywide community to furnish needed services."

Cancer Society Names Area Chairman-Advisor

Appointment this week of Mrs. Ernest L. Denlinger, 8240 Alton Dr., Lemon Grove, to unit general chairman will strengthen the budding Lemon Grove-Spring Valley unit of the American Cancer Society, according to Frederick L. Aydelotte, volunteer field representative of the San Diego County Branch.

Aydelotte explained that new growth of the unit-nucleus was timely because of pending responsibilities related to the Society's 1967 educational and fund-raising campaign beginning April 1.

Dr. George B. Brassington, 7944 Golden Ae., Lemon Grove, recently succeeded Dr. Kenneth G. Hanson as unit medical advisor.

L.G. Kick-Off Dinner Completely Sold Out

For those who waited until now to make plans for the Old Times Days kick-off dinner—it's too late.

Joyce Foss, secretary of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, through whom reservations are being cleared, said Tuesday that 80 tickets had been sold.

Capacity of Carman Ranch club's dining room is 80. The club is on Sweetwater rd. at Palm ave. The dinner is to set the pace for Old Times Days in Lemon Grove May 25, 26 and 27. A parade and sales events are planned for then.

The dinner Saturday, a 10 course luau, will start at 7 p.m. The luau will be served by Henry Goldy's Aladdin Catering Service. Tickets are $2 a person and it has been advertised as the town's biggest dinner bargain.

The dinner will be preceded by a three-for-dollar happy hours.

Host for the evening will be Dr. Sam Smith, immediate past president of the chamber.

Phil Acker, representing the San Diego Bicentennial Committee will tell of San Diego's plans for 1969 when the city presents its world celebration.

Music will be provided by Dr. Ben Casey's Jazz quintet before and after the program, Dr. Smith said.

There will be two Dutch auctions at which an oil painting by Dr. Smith will be sold. A bottle of refreshments will also go at auction.

School Land May Be Sold

The Lemon Grove school board voted Monday night to ask the State Department of Education for permission to sell eight to ten acres of the eighteen-acre Monterey Heights school facility. The land is on hillside and is said to be unsuitable for school use.

Superintendent Byron Netzel told the board that Little League organizations had been attempted to get use of the property as a ball park. The County Park Department had earlier rejected the district's request to take ownership and develop part of the excess land as a public park.

If the State Department of Education approves the sale, the property will be advertised and sold to the highest bidder.

Proceeds from the sale will be applied against the building fund debt.

Horseshoe Tavern Kitchen Reopened

Ida May, former operator of Ida May's cafe in East San Diego, has taken over the restaurant at the Horseshoe Tavern, 7664 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

Ida's husband, Bill May, is the chef.

The restaurant will be open seven days a week and will offer a merchant's lunch five days a week. Dinners will be served nightly.

Old-fashioned, homecooked meals will be featured.

The couple takes over the Horseshoe kitchen today.

Union With San Diego?

The area of Lemon Grove, Casa de Oro and Spring Valley should annex to the city of San Diego to enjoy orderly growth, more park and recreation facilities, get free trash and garbage service, and to improve property values.

These are some of the inducements offered by San Diego Councilman Mike Schaefer, in whose district the annexed area would be.

Councilman Schaefer, a candidly sincere, 27-year old attorney has been openly inviting this union for the past couple of years.

"You need us and we need you," he said.

It should be noted that there is presently no move afoot in any of the three communities to annex to San Diego—nor to incorporate, either.

Because Schaefer has been persistent, his views are worth reporting.

These views were aired privately Saturday but he agreed he would pursue annexation if encouraging reaction followed the publication of his views.

Without comment on the correctness of Councilman Schaefer's comments, we herewith present his views:

1. Dynamic commercial development, such as that which followed the 1954 annexation of College Grove, would come to the newly annexed area.

2. Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and Casa de Oro, once annexed, would be destined to become part of the country's "top ten" cities with all of the importance that generates at federal level.

3. Annexation opens the door to local residents who could serve as mayor, councilman, postmaster, board and commission members. It's the only way the outspoken, talented and progressive community leaders can be effective in molding state and national progress. Small cities and disorganized communities are left out of most of the conventions, forums and consultation on statements of policy.

4. The annexation would include whatever portion of the loosely defined area agreed to by community leaders — if San Diego voted to accept annexation.

5. "I favor annexation and firmly feel it would be advantageous to both of us. It would strengthen real estate values and provide improved municipal services at a reduced cost." — M. Schaefer.

6. Point Loma, Ocean Beach, La Jolla, College Grove, North Park, all maintain community civic associations, town councils, and shopping areas.

7. Procedures:

a. A reasonable number of property owners must request San Diego to make a feasibility study.

b. City proceeds and makes recommendations.

c. Local Agency Formation Commission considers request.

d. If LOFC approves it, City Planning Commission holds hearing.

e. Petitions must be signed by 25% of registered voters in area to be annexed.

f. San Diego City Council holds hearing to consider protests, the annexation dies.

g. If protests are less than 50%, San Diego holds a special "yes or no" election in the area. Defeat kills the issue for at least a year.

h. Majority approval (51%) authorizes the San Diego City Council to annex, if the Council so desires.

8. San Diego has 7.2 employees per 1,000 citizens. Boston and Baltimore have 12 per 1,000. Nationally, there are 2.75 police officers per 1,000. San Diego has 1.1. Such economies are available in large, well-organized cities. Other Savings: Auto insurance rates in San Diego are 40% cheaper than L.A. and S.F. Fire insurance rates are half the national average. San Diego has funds to maintain top-notch fire and police departments.

9. San Diego provides free trash and garbage service, modern branch libraries, and many parks and recreation facilities (including three new pools) made possible by the 1966 $47 million bond issue.

10. San Diego spends $750,000 annually planning orderly growth. Being a part of San Diego offers an unlimited and exciting future.

'One Good Lieutenant'

The fellows who drew up the Bill of Rights did not intend that the freedom of speech clause would give anyone benign approbation to walk up to your papa and call him an SOB.

Repulsive as the thought is, you could do it Constitutionally. You've got freedom to call the old gent anything you want. Anticipation of a good poke in the nose from papa—and social scorn from some of the older folk—keeps such parental felicity to a minimum.

Yet, the freedoms are absolute. The Bill says nothing about a little bit of freedom. The founding fathers never anticipated young punks taking advantage of the precious freedoms, and certainly, none anticipated Berkeley. Until a few years ago, no one else did, either.

If there was discussion back in 1791 about the possibility of anyone abusing the Freedom of Speech clause it probably went something like this: "Naw, fellows. We don't have to worry about abuse of these freedoms. If anyone gets too far out of line, he'll get licked or sued. And college kids? They're too smart. All they'll want is freedom to learn."

The designers of the Constitution were not simple minded

THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Matthew 9:10-13
Let your minds be renewed and your whole nature thus transformed. (Romans 12:2 NEB)

In a certain cathedral there was a beautiful stained glass window admired by countless hundreds of people. However one day a terrific storm shattered the window. The broken glass was gathered up and taken to the basement.

A stranger came by shortly afterward and asked to see the famous window. Instead he was given the boxes of shattered glass. Months later, it was revealed that he was a very famous artist. He had taken what was thought to be worthless fragments and had made a new window for the cathedral, far exceeding the original in beauty and grandeur.

How much like the process God uses in transforming human life. Often what appears to us to be of so little worth becomes, by the touch of God a thing of beauty having eternal value. Who can measure the significance of one life transformed by the power and spirit of God?

Prayer: How grateful we are to Thee, our heavenly Father, that Thou dost love all humanity, regardless of race, creed, color or station in life. We are thankful for the power of the gospel and its redeeming effect in our hearts and on our behavior. Unworthy though we are, we pray for Thy mercy, through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Savior, Amen.

Thought for the day: The touch of God makes my life of infinite value!

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Couple in Mid-Seventies As They Join Ranks of Newlyweds

It all happened at an Autumn wedding last year, when Henry Fleming of La Mesa, said to a lady friend of more than ten years, "Everybody's getting married. How about us?" Mrs. Peuker replied, "How about it?"

Silence reigned for several months, and in February of this year love blossomed with a whirlwind romance, culminating in the marriage of the widow and widower.

Mrs. Sophie A. Peuker, 9241 Carthay Circle, Spring Valley, 72, and Henry O. Fleming, La Mesa, 74, were married in a double ring ceremony at 2 p.m., March 4, at the Atonement Lutheran Church, Spring Valley.

Rev. Norman Schneider officiated as the couple, so young at heart, were united by the bond of matrimony.

Mrs. Peuker's daughter and son-in-law, the W. H. Lefebvres, 3808 Pinto Pl., Spring Valley, attended the couple.

Mrs. Peuker chose a pink two piece silk ensemble accented by beige accessories for the occasion. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Lefebvre, wore a coral silk sheath with pink accessories.

Mrs. Peuker, a native of Germany, is the widow of William Peuker. They were married for 46 years, and raised three children: Helen P. Levin, of Chicago; William H., of Chula Vista; and Eleanor P., of Spring Valley.

Mrs. Peuker has eight grand children: Yvonne, Billy, Mark, Barry, Bradley, Lorilee, Cheryl, and Judith, and one great-grandchild, Richard Paul.

The Peukers resided in Chicago for most of their married life, moving to California upon retirement. Later, Peuker was employed by the Hotel del Coronado, San Diego. He died six years ago.

Fleming, a widower twice, was a claim agent for the Illinois Central Rail Road, Chicago office, and came to California twelve years ago, also seeking a suitable climate for retiring.

Four generations were represented at the wedding ceremony as the out-of-town guests included Mrs. Peuker's daughter, Mrs. Helen P. Levin, of Chicago, accompanied by her 21 year old daughter, Cheryl Kasper, and her 6 months old son.

Fleming is the father of one

Assessment Aid Is Aim of Deddeh's Bill

Assemblyman Wadie P. Deddeh (D-Lemon Grove-Spring Valley) introduced an Assembly Bill to correct a long-standing problem in the assessment of property for taxation.

Deddeh's bill lays out a procedure to be used in determining the value of property and bases the determination on modern concepts of construction and sale.

"The present law was written in the early days of our state," the Assemblyman explained, "and has never been amended to keep current. Although our property taxes are based on the 'value' of our holdings, there has never been any accurate guide for determining value," Deddeh said.

Under existing law the definition is based on a debtor-creditor relationship, but "very few people take property in payment for a debt these days," he said.

Deddeh pointed out that this legislation resulted from a two year study by the Assembly Committee on Revenue and Taxation of which he is now a member. Deddeh stated that this bill is designed to prevent further scandals among the assessor's offices in California. "The bill strengthens the administration of the property tax and will be beneficial to the assessor and the taxpayer," Deddeh said.

THE COMMON DENOMINATOR IN HEALTH

There is within each individual, one common innate (internal) intelligence, which conceives, develops, gives birth, produces and reproduces, performs, life-function within each, in common, always alike, to all alike. All this because one common denominator is in all alike, organized alike, having functions in common. Each has a backbone, vertebral subluxations, causing disease, a common internal cause and cure alike, no variables in cause and cure differing in one from another. Accidental concussions of forces, cause in all alike, has been correcting in all alike; that's how and why well people get sick, and get well, without drugs, the so called "miracles of nature." This cause and cure is internal in every one alike, the one great common denominator applies to all the human race, in all countries, regardless of so-called differences in status of lives. It simplifies the complex, brings internal sickness problem to a relationship internal to each person alike. It simplifies the exhaustless medical complex. That's what makes chiropractic a universal service to mankind, and the chiropractor a servant to innate (internal) intelligence common to all people inside of mankind. A chiropractor could travel to any part of the world, apply his art and get sick people well, without one word of inter-communicating language, or considering external variables of people. Most new methods or new principles are in opposition to old methods of old principles such as chiropractic is radically different from medicine. Too often, man becomes so deeply steeped in some subjects that he cannot see the oncoming evolution without going through a revolution within his thinking processes. That's what we know to be a God-given service of man to man, making practical the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.

George P. Koutumas, Chiropractor

The Dimmer View

jerks. They were trusting Americans who believed logic would forever prevail.

And logic from the former superintendent of West Point academy is what this item is about.

The man is Gar Davidson, who took a job at Berkeley following his retirement from running West Point. Davidson, a former general, took an administrative post with Berkeley—and then quit it.

He explained it in an article in ASSEMBLY, the West Point monthly publication.

Said General Davidson (and this is the whole object of this article) "Some months ago I came to the conclusion that the policies of the administration of the University of California are so contrary to those principles we in the military service honor and believe in, that I could no longer remain a part of the administration and still retain my self respect. Therefore I resigned.

"It is a shame to see the reputation of a truly great institution needlessly besmirched by an organized and vociferous but relatively minuscule portion of the student body and faculty. Unfortunately discipline was not among my responsibilities. In my opinion a good lieutenant could have handled the situation in the first hour."

The idea makes sense.

Let's pick a few good lieutenants and put them on our campuses with authority to clean up the ridiculous situation.

Then we can again speak of our great universities without a tinge of embarrassment.

A Thank You Letter

A good lesson in terseness being effective is offered with this item.

It comes from a kid—probably in the early grades of elementary school.

It is his response to our regular Christmas feature—Santa's Mailbag—in which we print, verbatim, letters kiddies write to Santa in December.

Each year we print hundreds of such letters but we seldom hear how the kiddies made out.

This week, from a youngster signed "Brant" came this communication which makes our point. Said he:

"Thank you Santa Claus, for all the nice things." No poet could say it better.

There's a 'Gurgle' in Your Future

La Jolla's Scripps Institute recently opened the bright new scientific horizon, upon which the world is guided.

New scientific measurements for everything from weather, to concepts of world food sources, have resulted from studies triggered by the Institute's endeavors.

Scripps needs no hosannahs from this column. Its accomplishments, in spartan style, will stand forever as testimony that a new form of science has been developed in San Diego. So much for Scripps and its research facilities. Let's see what it has triggered in at least one field.

An intriguing study done by Lee Edson for the petroleum industry, carries the Scripps' philosophy several steps beyond today's concepts.

In the current issue of Petroleum Today, Edson forsee's underwater communities with floating glass bubbles that house workers, luxury hotels for tourists, submarine-like trains, and farms where marine plants are cultivated and sea animals, such as whales, are bred for market.

An ironical argument in favor of the logic of such enterprises is that while oceans cover 70 per cent of the globe and contain 80 per cent of the world's animal life, man has acquired relatively little knowledge of the sea's mysterious and hostile depths.

The quest has just begun for the vast and virtually untouched sources of food, drugs and minerals.

Scientists now believe that the quantity of fish taken from the ocean each year could be increased fivefold without harming the overall supply. Currently, more than 45 million tons a year are hauled from the seas.

Pain-killing chemicals; chemicals that inhibit the growth of tumors, fight viruses, and stimulate the heart, have already been extracted from sea creatures in a new sequence of exciting discoveries.

In addition to food and chemicals, there are millions of tons of silver, billions of tons of gold, valleys of diamonds, and huge deposits of phosphoric acid, sulphur, and other key ores, just waiting to be mined, the study shows.

The reason the oil industry sponsored the study was to show that they had spent more than $3.5 million, since 1940, to explore and develop the ocean's reserves.

The U.S. Congress, it should be noted, has also encouraged this progress by enacting legislation last year that will open the way for increased government support of oceanographic research.

Exactly what forms this progress will take are uncertain, but marine scientists have made some educated guesses.

In addition to subsurface colonies, mineral processing as well as mining on the ocean floor is foreseen. Envisioned, also, are oil drilling operations going on inside self-contained, watertight rigs, while petroleum that is produced will be processed in adjacent refineries-under-glass.

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

A fascinating legend is told about the founding of Mexico City. It begins in a small Indian village where resources for food were fast being depleted. A wise man in the tribe had a vision that a new land of plenty would some day be found before starvation overtook their people. According to the vision, this new land would be in a place where a tribesman would come upon an eagle with a serpent in its beak. The eagle would be perched upon a cactus which would be located in the center of a small island. The island would later expand into a great nation.

Shortly after the vision, the bravest of the young braves was selected to go out in search of this new beautiful land. After many days of searching with no success, he saw in the distance an eagle circling an island in the center of the lake. Overjoyed at the sight he quickly paddled his canoe to the island. There in plain view stood the eagle perched upon a cactus with a serpent in its beak. The vision had come true and a new nation was to be founded on the island. Symbol of the new nation has been brought forward on the Mexican flag to this as the eagle with a serpent in its beak, perched on a cactus.

Today lesson is about the symbols on the Mexican flag. Read the sentences over and try to pronounce them from the phonetic guide provided. Then if you wish to improve your pronunciation you may dial 276-2762 on your telephone where you may hear each

To The Outside World

by Kathy Powell

This week has been an extremely busy one for Mount Miguel Matadors in almost every field. Both of the winter sport teams took a second in their respective meets; the wrestling team second only to Monte Vista and the basketball team challenging San Diego High for the top spot.

In the speech department, Mount Miguel spent a total of three and a half days in Whittier, California attending the National Qualifying meet. The first day, competition was held in the Quaker church; the second day, at Whittier college. A great amount of good will was fostered between the twenty-seven schools, and some lasting friendships were made. A hearty congratulation to Julie Toner for a fourth place in numerous interpretation.

Billy Mills was the keynote speaker at the M.M. nominating convention held on the third of this month. The convention lasted from 9 a.m.-7 p.m. and was packed with activity. Each office now has two people competing for its responsibilities, and during this week the campaigning begins, concluding with the announcement of the victors at the Presidential Ball on March 17.

Mount Miguel's theatrical department also had a short but extremely successful run of The Crucible last Thursday and Saturday. M.M. actors and actresses now look forward to the spring musical.

A busy weekend, yet!?

GIRL SCOUT CHATTER

By Mary D. Giacinto

Hurrah for the Girl Scouts of District X! Their cookie sales netted over $240 for their troop's treasures and $1,500 for the development and maintenance of camping facilities for their council. Scout leaders sincerely thank everyone who help in any way.

This year cookie sales were made and orders taken over the phone so there was no hustle and bustle of girl scouts selling their wares. Cookies will be delivered through March 11th. Since there are a few more of those delicious cookies on hand you may purchase them by calling Mrs. Graves at 463-8312.

Girl Scout Week will be celebrated March 12 through March 18 all over the United States. In honor of the occasion our District X will hold a Girl Scout Family Day on March 19th. Reserve that day for fun and frolic. Bring your own sack lunches and meet with your family at Santee Lakes at 10 a.m. There will be no swimming, but you can rent boats. During the program on that day each troop will offer their contribution for the Juliette Low Friendship Fund. A good time is in the offering for all who come. Remember March 18 at 10 a.m.

Girl Scout uniforms for cadets are sorely needed. If you have one that is not in use, please donate, lend or sell it to another scout. Contact Mrs. Lutz at 465-5557.

Symphony Orchestra to Host Grossmont Concert Choir

The San Diego Symphony Orchestra will present Verdi's "Requiem" on Tuesday evening, March 14. This concert will follow in the same tradition as the exciting "Requiem" by Berlioz and the "Ninth (Chorale) Symphony" by Beethoven which were presented previously. The San Diego Symphonic Chorale directed by Robert Emile, and the Aztec Concert Choir of San Diego State College under the direction of J. Dayton Smith, will again join forces for the presentation.

This year the Grossmont College Concert Choir directed by Carroll Reed and the Mesa College Olympic Chorale directed by Robert Heninger will participate for the first time. The combined choral groups and the orchestra will be under the baton of guest conductor, Zoltan Rozsnyai. Rozsnyai will be making his second appearance of the 1966-67 winter season.

Soloists for the "Requiem" are Mary-Esther Nicola, soprano; Paula Chastain, mezzo-soprano; Howard Fried, tenor;

Miss Nicola is one of the fine young performers to be found in San Diego. She has been active in past years with Starlight Opera, Music Makers and the Escondido Oratorio Association. Over-the-counter ticket sales for the National Amateur Athletic Union Senior Men's Boxing Championships, set for the International Sports Arena in San Diego April 6-8, are under way.

The first official entry for the tournament came from Ronnie Harris of Canton, Ohio, and representing the Lake Erie Association. He will try to repeat in the 132-pound class when the world's top amateur boxers come here next month.

After winning the 1966 AAU crown, Harris went to Europe with an international team and won three of four bouts. He also won on an invasion of Canada.

Navy champions will be decided March 10. Winners then will enter the All-West Coast bouts here March 13-14 to decide which boxers go to Honolulu for the All-Navy finals.

The All-Navy team will appear in the National AAU bouts in the International Sports Arena.

Entries for the 11th ND competition include 39-year-old Chuck Patterson, a middleweight who has won 243 fights and lost only three since being crowned AAU and Golden Gloves king in 1948.

Helix High's Highland Notes

by Shauna McGregor

The "political careers" of many loyal Highlanders will begin this week as the final election for next year's ASB officers and commissioners is held.

Ethiopia, Switzerland, Turkey—These countries are but a few of the homes of the American Field Service students who were featured at an assembly held Monday at Helix. The exchange students put on skits, danced, sang and did other special numbers for the 2,400 Helix students. The assembly was held to kick off the bond drive which is being held this week to earn money for the American Field Service.

Walt Disney will be honored Friday night as Y-Teens, a social organization for high school girls, holds its annual dance, "Carousel." The theme will be "A Touch of Fantasy."

Some 500 girls and their dates from Helix, as well as the other Grossmont District high schools, are planning to attend the dance which will be held at the Balboa Park Club.

County Chief Sees Higher

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Chief County Administrative Officer T. M. Heggland this week (Monday) said the only sure thing about the county tax structure for the next fiscal year is that the levy (money raised by property taxes) will be higher than this year.

This is a product of county growth, Heggland said, and a combination of salary increases and added services.

It does not mean, however, that a tax increase is inevitable but it does mean that pressures for a tax increase will be heavy.

Heggland said, "The budget will be higher. We cannot expect or count on a significant increase in assessed valuation since the assessor himself told us (the interviewers) that he does not know what to expect himself."

"We don't know if the state will take any steps to lessen the property tax burden, nor, if it does, how much or where the steps will be.

"If revenue does not match expenditures, there is only one place the county can turn, and that is to the property tax."

EXHIBIT — Alex Struthers, left, manager of the La Presa Water District, points out a rare coin, dating back to the age of the Roman Empire, to Don D. Erickson, Bank of America manager. Struthers, a noted numismatist, has a display of ancient Roman and Greek coins on exhibit at the Bank of America, Sweetwater-Jamacha Branch through March. Struthers resides at 1489 Del Rose Ave., Spring Valley.

Area B of A Displays Rare Coin Collection

by Tommy Thomas

Winner of several numismatic awards, an unique display of ancient Roman Coins, owned by Alex Struthers, manager of the La Presa Water District, is on display at the Sweetwater-Jamacha Branch of the Bank of America.

The display may be viewed during banking hours during the month of March, according to Don Erickson, bank manager.

The display features an economic chart containing silver denarii, spanning a 500-year period, from approximately 200 BC to 300 AD, depicting the rise and decline of the Roman Empire, as reflected in the metallic quality of these coins. The denarius was a silver coin at the outset, which gradually underwent debasement to a point where little, if any, silver was used in later Roman coinage. In fact, several specimens in the display are actually copper with only the residue of silver wash.

Of feminine interest in the Struthers display, is the section of coins depicting the portraits of emperors and women of the royal families. These coins show a wide range of hair styling, which have been identified in modern beautician terminology.

Another section of the display features coins of the XII Caesars, beginning with Julius and including Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, Nero, Galba, Otho, Vitellius, Vespasian, Titus, concluding with the assassination of the sadistically depraved Domitian in 96 AD.

Other interesting coins of this period, include those of Marc Antony, the so-called "Tribute Penny" of the Bible, and a "Judea Capite" commemorating the suppression of the Jewish Revolt by Vespasian and his son, Titus. Also displayed is a series of portrait coins of the emperors of the period beginning with Nerva in 96 AD, to Diocletian's era 284-305 AD.

The ancient had little concern with alloy or exact dimensions required for today's use in automatic vending machines. However, the weight of coins was carefully controlled even without efficient modern equipment. To the ancients, the coins, themselves represented intrinsic value. Lacking modern techniques of banking or credit control, coins were an essential ingredient of trade.

Explaining the reason so many ancient coins exist today in such excellent condition, Struthers pointed out that the ancient hoarded coins by caching them in earthen jars. These jars were buried for safekeeping—so safe, in fact that nearly two thousands years later, modern archeologists excavate these coins which give mute evidence of bygone eras. Struthers also explained that many historical events have also been confirmed, or even revealed on coins which were used extensively for the dissemination of government propaganda, in lieu of modern newspapers and broadcasting media.

Struthers said he would like to hear from numismatists interested in the ancients, with the objective of forming a discussion group in this area.

Struthers can be reached at the La Presa County Water District offices, east of Jamacha and Sweetwater Springs Blvd., 463-6675.

Tax Tips

Simple errors on Federal income tax returns delay refunds and cause taxpayers trouble.

Internal Revenue Service suggests this simple checklist:

1. Check arithmetic and make sure information is on the correct line.
2. Attach Forms W-2 from all employers.
3. Sign your return. Both husband and wife must sign a joint return.
4. Print or type name and address, including zip code.
5. Use correct tax table.
6. Total your deductions if you itemize them on page 2.
7. List your Social Security number correctly. Both husband's and wife's numbers should be reported on the joint return.

You can save the Internal Revenue Service and yourself valuable time and money by carefully checking your 1966 tax return before you mail it.

Taxpayers with income from farming, pensions or business and professional activities or who have profits or losses on the sale of property must attach certain schedules to their Federal tax return Form 1040 when they file.

Thousands of taxpayers failed to do this last year according to Internal Revenue Service District Director Frank S. Schmidt. As a result, their returns could not be processed until the schedules were obtained and any refunds due were similarly delayed.

The schedules omitted include the following:

Schedule B — To report income from pensions and annuities, rents and royalties, partnerships and estates or trusts.

Schedule C — To report profits or losses from a business or professions.

Schedule D — To report gains and losses from sales or exchanges of property.

Schedule F — To report farm income and expenses.

Schmidt said copies of these schedules as well as many other forms are available at some banks, post offices and local offices of the IRS.

Internal Revenue Service District Director Frank S. Schmidt reminded all aliens that before leaving the United States they must secure tax clearance from the Internal Revenue Service.

The District Director said that departing aliens should be at least two weeks before their dates of departure for their certificates of compliance, commonly known as "Sailing Permits."

Departing aliens must appear in person at their local Internal Revenue Offices with copies of Federal income tax returns for both 1965 and 1966, receipts for the payment of income taxes in connection with these returns and a statement of income and expenses for 1967. They should also bring their passports and re-entry permits.

Schmidt said that "Sailing Permits" normally can be issued quickly, provided the alien has all the required information.

"Sailing Permits" are issued at the main Los Angeles District office at Los Angeles and Temple Streets, Los Angeles. However, if the taxpayer has all of the records needed and is going to be out of the country for a relatively short period, some local field offices are authorized to issue these permits. Check the telephone directory under U. S. Government, Treasury Department, and telephone the office near your home to save a trip to Los Angeles Civic Center.

Southern California taxpayers were reminded by District Director of Internal Revenue Frank S. Schmidt that payment of Federal taxes on gifts is due April 17, the same day income taxes must be paid.

Schmidt said that taxpayers who made gifts during calendar year 1966, or are planning to make gifts in the future, will find answers to many of their tax questions on these gifts in IRS Publication No. 448, A Guide to Federal Estate and Gift Taxation.

The Guide summarizes important Federal estate and gift tax laws and regulations and also explains both types of tax and the requirements for filing returns and paying these taxes.

Schmidt indicated that the chapter on estate taxation will be very helpful to taxpayers whose estates may be subject to Federal estate tax and want to make the most beneficial provisions for their heirs.

A Guide to Federal Estate and Gift Taxation, Publication No. 448, may be obtained for 25¢ by writing to the District Director of Internal Revenue or the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

"Tax Guide For Small Business," a 160-page booklet, provides answers to questions about Federal income, excise and employment taxes which businessmen may have, Frank S. Schmidt, District Director of Internal Revenue for Southern California said.

Peace Corps Test Set For Mar. 18

San Diego area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 18, at Room 219, P.O. Bldg., 815 "E" Street.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicate a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The Placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive — an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the Placement Test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test.

California Disaster Office Announces Change in Procedure of Attack Notice

The public will be warned of an actual attack on this nation by the use of only one warning signal in the future.

A release from the California Disaster Office announcing the change, effective March 1, indicated that "the attack warning signal will be the sounding of a three-to-five-minute wailing tone on sirens or short blasts on horns or other warning devices used by local governments."

The attack warning signal means that an attack against this country has been detected and that protective action should be taken immediately. It was emphasized that the attack warning signal shall be used for no other purpose and have no other meanings.

It was further added that "This national change in warning signals means that the previous three-to-five-minute steady tone alert signal may now be used, at the option of local officers, to advise the public to 'listen for essential emergency information' over available broadcast stations or other news means. The steady tone signal may also be used by local government, at their option and authority, to advise the public of impending natural disaster such as floods and seismic sea waves."

The California Disaster office receives attack warning information over the National Warning System, which originates from the North American Air Defense Command, Colorado Springs, following official determination of an actual attack. The California Disaster Office utilizes the National Warning System and all necessary state communications systems to relay immediately attack warning to local governments. Local warning devices are then activated in accordance with local civil defense plans.

Under the procedure the attack warning signal will be repeated from national, state, and local levels as many times as required to obtain necessary response from the public to take protective action from an attack or subsequent arrival of radioactive fallout.

Cal-Western Presents 'Imaginary Invalid'

Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid", a play that has survived 300 years will open a 5-day engagement when it is presented by California Western University's School of Performing Arts Tuesday, March 7. Performances through Sat., March 11 start at 8:30 p.m. in the Salomon Little Theatre on the Point Loma campus.

The play was first presented at the Palais Royal Feb. 10, 1673, with Moliere himself cast in the lead role of Argan, a hypochondriac. Attesting to his own belief that the practitioners of medicine of that period were grossly inadequate, Moliere promptly passed away during the play's fourth performance seven days later.

Moliere perceives of the world as a battleground between rogues and fools, thus making it clearly evident why this play has survived through three centuries.

"The Imaginary Invalid" is directed by Dr. Alvin S. Kaufman and includes song, ballet and mime sequence, directed by Richmond Shepard, drawn from the comedia del arte.

Social Security Office Sets Medicare Claim Assistance

One type of Medicare claim almost always results in extensive extra defoliation and delay, Arlyn B. Carr, district manager for the Social Security Administration, announced.

When a patient dies and a survivor submits a claim, there are usually other documents needed besides the usual receipts, Carr said. The documents will vary with different situations. Sometimes proof of appointment as administrator or executor of an estate is needed. Sometimes, when a small estate is involved, consents from other heirs may be all that is required. A clear statement as to the identity of the claimant and his right to the payment is almost always needed.

The people in the Social Security office will be glad to help survivors to submit these claims. They are trained in the special handling which these claims require.
